

12/13/17

Ecosystems

1. Ecosystems are made up of living & non living things that exist in a delicate balance.
2. Ecosystems may be divided into biomes by their climate, plant & animal life.
3. Ecosystems are disrupted by both natural & manmade events.

Earth's ecosystems are divided into regions known as biomes. Biomes are defined by their climate & the plant & animal life that live within that region. All of the landforms within any of an ecosystem's biomes exist due to a delicate balance.